so i figured i should probably hear dora's side of what happened. there are two sides to every story, and i'm not about to believe everything i hear in homeroom. after school i went by her locker and practically dragged her outside to talk. she looked miserable with bags under her eyes like she hadn't slept all night. when i asked her about the party and all the stories about her having sex with some random college guy, she burst into tears.

she said it was all lies. yes she went to the party and drank way too much, but she did NOT have sex. she told me that some sleazy college guy came on to her, even when he found out she was underage (ick) it gets worse. he tried to push her into having sex and totally wouldn't take no for an answer. she freaked out and got the hell out of there before anything happened, thank god. when she got home, her parents were up waiting for her. she got totally busted and they made her promise to go see a counselor or something. i don't know why she went all drama queen on me this semester, but i'm glad she's getting some help with her problems.

if only there was less drama with dora and more drama with ty. we talked a few times in the hall but I think we might be in that awkward weird stage of things and he hasn't called me in a week. whatever, maybe i'll just call him but I don't want to seem pushy. i hate these stupid games.
